A Beautiful IRIS

The Queen of your Dooryard Garden!

Flowers Bring Happiness

WHERE is the human soul that does not respond to the smiling greeting of flowers! What heart is not lightened by the glimpse of glorious wind blown Irises lifting their heads in queenly adoration to the morning sun—iridescent drops of dew besparkling the rich petals! And there is more happiness in the magical unfolding of nature's greatest gift to man's instinctive appreciation of beauty—flowers . . . of little use to physical man yet inspiring to the spiritual being.

*Make your yard

IN the planting of and watching from day to day the development and unfolding of these beautiful flowers comes a new interest in life, a benefit to health, that is worth much to all who seek an outlet from the intensities of modern living.

I Want You to Enjoy My Wonderful Flowers, Too!

During the past ten years, I have been collecting and studying Irises and Peonies. I have so enjoyed my work with the beauties in my garden that I want to acquaint you with my favorites. Soon I will issue my beautiful descriptive catalog of Irises and Peonies for 1927, but I am waiting until illustrations of the finest, newest developments in Irises can be included and shown in color. But before it is off the press many will want to make early selections. Therefore, I am issuing this folder which contains a list of a few of my favorites, and some special collections at unusual prices which I know will interest and please you.

Make your selections now—these flowers will give you real pleasure and many weeks of enjoyment.

Lee R. Bonnewitz

Mother of Pearl (Sturtevant)

A real gem of beauty, an aristocrat among Irises. Its splendid iridescent color, perfect form, vigorous growth and wonderful substance have won for it recognition as one of the world's best Irises.
